

The New York Center for Children Donor Privacy Policy

The New York Center for Children's Commitment to Donor Privacy

Your privacy is important to us. The New York Center for Children does not trade, share or sell a donor's personal information which you share through both online and/or offline, with anyone else, nor send donor mailings on behalf of other organizations. In order to better protect your privacy, we provide this notice explaining our online and offline information practices and the choices you can make about the way your information is collected and used. To make this notice easy to find, we make it available on our home page and at every point that personally identifiable information may be requested.

The Information We Collect

This notice applies to all information collected or submitted to The New York Center for Children through our website or sent to us through other mediums.

On some pages, donors may make one time contributions or donate through our Sponsor A Child Program, and make inquiries regarding your contributions. The types of personal information collected at these pages may include some or all of the following:

Name

Address

Email address

Credit/Debit Card Information

How We Use Information

The New York Center for Children uses the information you provide about yourself to complete the specific request for which you have provided information. We will also use your information to provide you with a donation record. We may occasionally use your information to send you updates and/or provide you with additional information about our programs and services at The New York Center for Children.

We use e-mail addresses to answer the e-mail that we receive. The New York Center for Children does not rent, sell or exchange our mailing lists or any other information submitted through this website.

Our website contains links to other sites. The New York Center for Children is not responsible for the privacy practices or the content of such websites. We encourage all donors and/or users to learn about the privacy policies and practices of all websites and charities to better protect your privacy and security.

The New York Center for Children does not use or share the personally identifiable information provided to us online in ways unrelated to the ones described above. If at any time you would like to correct and/or remove your contact information from our organizations record, please contact us at info@newyorkcenterforchildren.org.

Contact Us: Should you have any questions or concerns about our privacy policy, please send us an email at info@newyorkcenterforchildren.org or call us at 212.517.3012. You may also send a fax to 212.517.6738.
